

PHOTO
NOT AVAILABLE

Ted Spraker

Ted Spraker was raised in Wyoming and attended the University of Wyoming and holds a bachelor's degree in Wildlife Management and Master's in Range Management.

Ted moved to Alaska in July of 1973 and is married to Elaina Spraker and has three children ages 15, 18 and 26.

Ted has worked for U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of Fish and Game, and retired in 2002 after 28 years of state service.

He is a member of the Alaska Trappers Association, Safari Club International, an official measurer for the Boone and Crockett Club and a lifetime member of NRA. Ted is an avid hunter, trapper and sport fisherman.